Evaluate before you trust

AI agents · Level 4 · Lesson 3

Today we will

- Build a test set with known right answers.
- Score an agent exactly, and break the score down.
- Set a pass mark before you run the test, and test again after changes.

Remember

- A few right answers are an impression, not a test.
- Trained wordings 96–98%; new wordings 78–80%: test both.
- Read every failure; test again after every change.

The agent's exam

1. Warm-up (5 min): What makes an exam fair?
2. Teach (8 min): Test sets, new wordings, exact scoring.
3. Write (15 min): Five requests per group, with right answers.
4. Check (8 min): Swap, check answers, pick the best twenty.
5. Wrap-up (4 min): Set a pass mark, then the exit ticket.

Prepare the sheet of the ten tools and what each needs (place and day for the weather, class and day for the timetable…). A phone is optional, for trying a few requests in the labs.

Let’s discuss

1. Which jobs at our school need a person’s yes whatever the score?
2. Why does a company’s accuracy figure need the question “on what test?”?
3. How often should we run our test set again?

Exit ticket

- Write one test request with its exact right answer, and one pass mark you would set, with the job it is for.
